Evan Garcia	Tetas Profundas Webisode #1	0:07:29	Pro	General	On December 28th, 2013 A group of stout masters decided to head to the Rio Fuy, we had one thing on our minds, and it has been on my mind for almost 6 years now... THE PUMA! To this day Salto de la Puma is still the tallest waterfall ever run in Chile. We unofficially yet accurately measured the drop this year to be around 35-36 meters tall (110-115 feet) This combined with it's difficult entry and dangerous landing zone makes The Puma, in my mind, one of the most technical waterfalls in the world. With the 2nd descent going down just 10 days earlier by a young German paddler...The time was now. With the right level, group, and experience, Evan Garcia stepped up for the third descent... This is the story.	Winner Professional General

Synopsis

In early October 2012, our friend Koontz was wrongfully (correctly) accused of chopping down a tree by officials at the Russell Fork in Elkhorn City, KY and was banned from the area forever (for one week). This film documents his epic tale of redemption.

A short film of some Scotland boating in the West Highlands. In some very cold conditions.

My run at Moosefest 2012 (Bottom Moose) done with a GoPro HD.

Clips of downriver racing in Maine.

Caleb Adams in Chile during Christmas break from WVU. Rivers include palguin, Nevados, Coilaco, Fuy, and Turbio.

A video of OC1 carnage - with occasional stompage - on the Green, Tallulah, Chattooga, and more.

Two men follow the Green and Colorado Rivers from source to sea. From Wyoming to Mexico, they paddle and hike 1700 miles. Along the way they find wilderness, magnificent canyons, and a devastated delta.

In this episode Currents explores what this river has contributed to the sport of whitewater paddling. See the history of the Ottawa River through the voices of the people who helped shape what it is today.

STARRING: Ameli Lehner, Beni Pfeifer, Jonas Gruenewald, Lars Dippon, Nils Dippon and Friends. CAMERA: Lars and Nils Dippon, Florian Zaczeck, Ben Reuter and Jonas Gruenewald.

Ain't LouieFest is an informal open canoe festival. This video explains what, where, and why.

This summer I was lucky enough to join forces with an awesome crew of guys for a run down the river of my dreams, the Stikine in far northern BC during low flows (300 ish cumecs). The river has stolen my imagination for years, let it steal yours.....a magical place.

This documentary take you through 35 years of progression of whitewater rafting in the Pacific Northwest. From the '70s and '80s when commercial rafting started, into the gear testing years of the '90s, and into the new era of class V paddlers of the present.

Creek racing is gaining even more momentum than ever. The source of this popularity is the paddlers that are organizing, supporting, and spreading word on these races. While these races continue to get bigger in scale and attention, they continue to be grassroots at heart. Featuring The Brandset Extreme Downhill, The Callaghan Race, The Raquette Race and more.

Ladies who are charging in Extreme Sports. These chicks are considered Tits Deep. We are real, powerful, and bring the most substantial amount of style and ease into everything we do. This is the first chapter of a series of short films with women in extreme sports.

They are the world's biggest rapids, thundering down the final pitch of the mighty Congo. Legendary kayaker Steve Fisher and his elite expedition team battle seemingly insurmountable obstacles in an attempt to survive the Inga Rapids. 'Congo' chronicles this historic journey.

Why does he wander? What is he seeking? Traveling by foot, skis and kayak, Erik moves through the world and his life in a way few others do. He is The Nomad.

Do our mothers still have dreams, hopes and journeys to make? At age 67, Melody reflects on her life, her hopes, her failures and her dreams while exploring the magnificent waters and canyons of the Utah desert.

The supernatural... does it exist? The curious explore unbound by restrictions of place and mind and perhaps discover things we haven't understood. Legend whitewater kayaker Ben Marr shreds the upper reaches of Quebec, pushing limits to new and undiscovered levels.

What are you willing to fight for? Growing up on the North Shore of Oahu, surfing was Christopher Peterson's life. He fought for his place in the sport, for family, and for friends. When his grandmother called and asked for help, he left the islands -- only to find tragedy. He has not surfed in the ocean for over 6 years. Now he discovers solace and release surfing the rivers of the American West.

At 68, Rob Elliot has guided 200+ trips on the Grand Canyon of the Colorado river in Arizona. How do you want to be remembered, when this life joins the wind? What did you leave, in these chasms, upon these lives, young & curious? What did you write? What dust in the rain, sand in the rivers? Those you touched, embraced and kissed, loved... what echoes there? How will it travel, your wisdom, your story, your suffering and joy? These walls, silent, deafening, ancient and new. What did you make them, what did they make of you? A life running, teaching or learning, what is escape? What did you find? Wind, replenishing rain, sun. Who did these thorns see? What did these waters wash from you? The stars, in the abyss beyond, how did they shine, on you? Will you release the storm, the scars, whirling as they go, yet holding love, life? The luminous child, the harsh knowing of age, what did you leave behind?

The Whitewater Grand Prix brings together a group of the worlds best kayakers to compete on spectacular and challenging whitewater. This is a video highlighting the women of the WWGP event.

Waterfall kayaking has emerged as a dominant subset of WW paddling - thrilling audiences and pushing athletes to constantly tempt higher falls. It is constantly glorified and frequently misunderstood by all but the small group of kayakers who make waterfalls their life. Evan Garcia explores what it means to kayak off of big waterfalls - considering both the risks and rewards of a life driven by freefall.

Having been paralyzed from the waist down in a ski accident, Greg Mallory finds the new life through WW kayaking.

A look at Turner Wilson, a Greenland-style sea kayaker, at home in his element, contemplating the roots of kayaking and how that affected his paddling philosophy.

Tangled vines. Endless rain. Dodgy hotel rooms. Mud. Biting flies. Aggressive viruses...Perfection. Is this a vacation? Eric Boomer, Tyler Bradt, Galen Volckhausen, Tim Kemple, Anson Fogel, Blake Hendrix and Skip Armstrong hunt the remote Mexican jungle for the perfect waterfall....and the perfect shot. Paddler and cinematographer alike explore a world beyond the expected. Cascada.

The story of Justine Curgenvin and Barry Shaw's ambitious and dangerous attempt to kayak completely around Tierra del Fuego. Documents their 38 days on the water over two years, braving injury, wind and sea, border crossings, and strikes to spend long stretches along the mostly uninhabited but wildlife-filled coastline.

Imagine a time without paved roads, railways, or internal combustion engines. A time early in our nation's history when the land was wild and rivers, not interstates provided the most efficient means of exploration and commerce. Such was the climate of 1812 when Chief Justice John Marshall led an expedition into America's first true frontier, the rugged Appalachians. 200 hundred years later, Andrew Shaw assembled a team in honor of Marshall's journey and embarked on an expedition of their own. Follow along as 'The Marshall Expedition' traverses our nation's forgotten last frontier.

A river is a magic thing. A magic, moving, living part of the very Earth itself. It flows through the impossible, never forcing, and at the same time never holding back. Some are distant images never to be tasted, felt, or heard. Yet others hold a deeper connection. Places we have spent time, shared struggle, found piece. We are so connected to some we rearrange our entire lives to be closer to them. The ebbs and flows of these waters quench our souls in a way few earthly things can. The Green River is one of these.

Few places in the sport of whitewater kayaking are as iconic as Great Falls of the Potomac. In 1975, it was here that Tom McEwan and Wick Walker took running vertical waterfalls and extreme whitewater to a new level; and in doing so, laid the foundation for a new chapter in the sport. 'The Fall Line' visits Tom McEwan for his account of running the falls for the first time as well as an in depth Great Falls tour with local Geoff Calhoun. To learn more about this geologic spectacle be sure to check out 'The Fall Line'.

Written, presented and produced by Bruce Jolliffe and Dougie Shannon the DVD aims to bring a realistic, no-nonsense introduction to white water safety to you. Bruce and Dougie took a group of real students to the Spanish Pyrenees with award winning cameraman Paul Diffley, and recorded the coached demos and live practise to highlight what you really need to know to get to grips with this material. The DVD was edited by a television professional with no knowledge of white water safety to ensure that the examples are as clear and concise as is possible.

In "This is the Roll" world class instructors Cheri Perry and Turner Wilson demonstrate and teach the 3 most important Greenland style rolls. The standard roll, the Reverse Sweep and the Storm Roll are a complete package so you can roll up no matter how you capsize. Clear demonstrations, underwater footage and easy-to-follow progressions are filmed in the clear waters of Italy, with the backdrop of Vancouver Island's mountains and in Wales and Scotland.

R3 is designed to be new and informative River Running Resource site. It hosts and archives a series of rescue videos designed specifically for paddlers. The video series have been shot in a variety of exotic locations including Costa Rica, Canada, Mexico and the USA. The videos are hosted by reknown paddler and rescue Instructor Jim Coffey (Esprit) and filmed by award winning videographer Mike McKay (five2nine).
