Koontz Flume	Amateur	General	Josh & Matt Turner	12	A harrowing tale depicting the origins of Koontz and its epic journey from West Virginia to Elkhorn City, KY. Featuring the Russell Fork River as Koontz Flume at levels ranging from 100 to 5000 cfs.
reImagined	Amateur	General	Mike McKay	18.5	Take a world tour of the world's roughest rivers. In reIMAGINED, Todd Wells, Aniol Serrasolses, Ben Marr and a selection of other top-tier kayakers take on the gushing waterways and rocky cataracts of Mother Earth. Filmed between December 2010 and October 2011, this kinetic 18-minute film captures action on Washington's Little White Salmon, Costa Rica's Chirripo Atlantico, New Zealand's WuiNui River, and Canada's Garburator giving the viewer a sense of what it feels like to experience class 5 whitewater.
Ain't Louie Fest 2011	Amateur	General	Matt Douthitt	2	A brief visual survey of this year's Ain't Louie Fest. A 9 day festival held each spring featuring East Tennessee whitewater that draws canoeists from all over North America.
Dominican Republic	Amateur	General	Taylor Cofer	37	A trip to the Dominican Republic.
Lines TwentyEleven	Amateur	General	Andy Woods	9.5	Lines is a celebration of the wonderful rivers I had the chance to run this past year.
Currents - California	Amateur	Documentary	Mike McKay	7.5	This video was shot, logged, and edited using 100% solar power. In this episode the Currents crew attempts to show that the greenest energy is the energy that isn't used at all. Sunny California was the obvious choice to take on this adventure as well as capturing some of the best class five kayaking the Sierras have to offer.
Canoe Morning	Amateur	Documentary	Matt Douthitt	3.5	We all consciously or subconsciously fulfill a desire when we paddle. Only through honesty and introspection will we accurately answer the question, "Why Paddle?".
Los Escualos: Young Chilean Kayakers of the Rio Baker	Amateur	Documentary	Weston Boyles	15	For the past 12 years, Club Nautico Escualo (Shark), a youth kayak club in the remote Patagonian town of Cochrane, Chile, has taught kids between the ages of 4 and 18 to kayak on the emerald waters of the nearby Baker River. In the process the club has fostered integrity, community, and love for the environment. Now the Baker is threatened by the construction of two mega dams that would destroy the river and one of the last four great wildernesses on earth, while forever altering the town of Cochrane and the lives of the Escualos.
Rafting: Outsourced & Sponsors	Accomplished	General	Thomas Gerencer	2.25	At long last, the staffing problems in the rafting industry are solved!
High Sierra Safety	Accomplished	Documentary	Gareth Tate	39.5	In a project inspired by Bryan Owen at Astral Bouyancy, Gareth Tate and a crew of expert kayakers take you on a video tour of the infamous Upper Cherry Creek in California. With a runnable window of less than a week every year this run is top on the wish list of kayakers around the world. In this full length feature you will follow these kayakers down every major rapid on the run as they share tips on how to safely attack overnight kayaking expeditions like Upper Cherry."
Deep Runs the Canyon	Accomplished	Documentary	Carl Jacks	22.5	The 3rd installment from the West Kootenay based Endangered Creeks Expedition (ECE) narrows in on the most compelling of all whitewater landscapes, the canyon. Motivated by the thought of losing these wild areas to potential run-of-river developments, ECE paddlers set out to document some of the region's most scenic creek canyons.
The North Shore: a Guide to getting Lost	Professional	General	Chris Galloway	17	The rivers on Minnesota's North Shore cascade down the Sawtooth Range and tumble into the frigid waters of Lake Superior. The tannin waters of these world-class whitewater runs present many challenges and have given rise to one of the truly unique and core boating communities in the world of paddlesports. Come on this video journey for a rich insight into what the North Shore is all about.
Desoto Falls: the five year plan	Professional	Documentary	Chris Galloway	9	In 2008 Chris Gragtmans nabbed the first descent of Desoto Falls in Alabama, one of the tallest vertical drops on the East Coast of North America. In this short documentary, Chris reflects on how he prepared for this challenge and what it felt like to fall 70 feet off the lip.
The Craziest Idea	Professional	Documentary	Andy Maser	8.5	2011 was an historic year for rivers. The two dam removal projects that began as "crazy ideas" 30 years ago kicked off this year on the Elwa and White Salmon Rivers in Washington. These dam removal projects are the largest in history and represent a turning point in the effort to restore freeflowing rivers for salmon, recreation, and culture. The climactic moment of the year was the explosive breach of 125 foot tall Condit Dam on the White Salmon, captured using video and time lapse photography techniques.

The Grand Canyon in Winter	Professional	Documentary	Chris Galloway	22	To experience the Grand Canyon from river level in the heart of winter is a wilderness adventure second to none. Follow filmmaker Chris Galloway as he floats down the mighty Colorado River with six friends, a fourteen day journey that brings them through wildlife encounters, rock slides, a winter storm, and many more rich experiences in one of America's wildest places.
