Notes:

 Please do not return this page with your signed application. Keep this section and the “Helpful tips on what to expect and what to bring” pages for your own information.**

(If not included with the application, the “Helpful tips on what to expect and what to bring”, pages can be obtained from the BWA site at www.bluegrasswildwater.org at the “Spring Clinic” tab or by calling the Clinic Coordinator.)

Note 1: Swift Water Self Rescue Course. This is an elective course that will teach the basics of self-rescue, as well as how to assist in the rescue of others in your party. Cost for this course is 20.00 and will take the place of the Sunday morning kayaking river instruction. Space is limited, and for new boaters, this course is highly recommended.

Note 2: Recreational kayaks are unsafe on white water and will not be allowed in the classes. Most of the local sporting goods stores ONLY sell recreational kayaks. This includes: Dicks, Sportsman Warehouse, Academy Sports, Cabela’s, Bass Pro-Shop, and just about any other local chain you can think of. Whitewater kayaks CAN be purchased locally at Canoe Kentucky in Frankfort, (502) 227-4492. Canoe Kentucky offers a large selection of clothing, whitewater equipment, and new and used Jackson kayaks. Some rental equipment is also available in limited quantities. J&H Lanmark Store in Lexington (800) 677-9300. J &H is the local resource for Dagger kayaks as well as many other lines of whitewater clothing and accessories. If you have specific questions about new or used kayaks, these stores are the local outfitters and can offer excellent advice. Please let them know that you will be attending the BWA clinic so that they may better assist you (BWA members get a 10% discount at these locations). You should also feel free to contact the Clinic Coordinator, Bob Larkin (502)-550-4225 Clinic@bluegrasswildwater.org with any specific questions.

Note 3: Borrowed Equipment is provided by BWA Members & is on a First Come/First Served basis. The sooner you return your application, the more likely your chances of getting borrowed gear. If you buy gear for the clinic, it is recommended to begin with a PFD, Helmet &/or Sprayskirt. If you are planning on boating, you will need this gear anyway, & it’s better to have your own gear that fits & that you are comfortable in. YOU WILL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY GEAR BORROWED!!!!
